Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1,3-9,10,11,13,21-22,24-32,34,37-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Cline 469'. Note Figures 7-13 in Cline which show cabinet 110, pc board 250, ground terminal block 248, line connectors 242,244 which are connected to contact pads, traces, column 10 first paragraph, printed conductors connecting the traces with the output traces which are connected to load connectors 260. The traces are soldered to pc conductors as claims, via pins, see column 10. Note that Cline teaches low voltage transformers, switches and fuses integrally formed on the pc board 250, as claimed. Column 9 in Cline defines the colored conductors, as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2,,12,14-20,23,33,35,36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cline et al in view Davis et al. Cline et al teach the claimed invention except for showing the use of strain relief structure to enhance the safety of the unit. The patent to Davis et al is applied for teaching strain relief structure 10 as effective and leading to a safer operating device. In view of this teaching it would have been obvious to modify the Cline et al system to also use strain relief structure, to enhance the safety of the device. Use of particular types of strain relief structures as set forth in claims 15-20 is considered an obvious choice for the artisan, since many different schemes are conventionally used and such choice is dependent on the end use of the device, the size and the level of safety designated by the users. AS per claim 12 use of two holes to connect the ground wire to earth is likewise an obvious choice for the artisan to make, as long as the unit is properly grounded.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bajka, Gerondale et al, Hancock are cited for disclosing spa controllers of interest.
